

The History of AGT

AGT Middle East was founded in February 2002 in Manama, Bahrain, to provide and enable the transfer of advanced German and European security technology and know-how to the Middle Eastern markets.

AGT Germany was founded in June 2002 in Berlin to integrate different state-of-the-art technologies from Germany and Europe. With its offices located in the heart of the pulsing capital of Germany, AGT has its hands on the latest technology developments and advances in Europe. Berlin's international airport allows for quick visits virtually everywhere:

AGT comes to where its customers are!

Today, the entire AGT staff devotes its time and effort into the transfer of these technological advances and breakthroughs to its valued clients. AGT integrates an impressive range of state-of-the-art technologies from Germany and Europe and brings the advanced security of tomorrow to its international customers with the Middle East countries being of prime focus.
